

Greetings, Agents.

Congratulations on your recent acceptance into the Historical Timeline Taskforce & Protection (HTTP). Since the agency's inception, it has been our mission to keep chronological history as we know it intact.

This is a call to action: the timeline is in danger and we need your help. Recently, rogue actors who also wield the ability to time travel have been running amok. They call themselves the Hourglass Inversion, and we have begun to notice disturbances among some of the most famous events in history due to attacks from this group. Your team is our last hope for ensuring the integrity of human history.

Before we send you off to combat these time-tampering tricksters, we need a way to identify you and ensure consistent, accurate communication. Once your time machine is fully constructed and ready for travel, please send us a photograph of it. Please do also send us your team name; we have many groups of new agents working for us to combat the Hourglass Inversion.

Thank you for your cooperation - you'll be hearing from us again soon.

*We hold the line so the line continues on,
HTTP CEO*

Deliverables:

- A photo of your "time machine", with as little or as much artistic detail as you would like
- Your team name
- Please deliver this content via your respective blue team channels on Discord.

Deadline:

- Wednesday, October 29th, 11:59PM